Study comparison results

Both studies use the same fixed reference: 400 units.

Separate results from each three-match study

Measure	Study A	Study B
Recorded matches	271, 409, 537	294, 438, 522
Starting positions	250, 550, 411	250, 550, 411
Median match	409 units	438 units
Match range	271–537	294–522
Median difference	+9 units	+38 units

Median shift · B minus A: +29 units (+7.25% of the fixed reference)

Changed surrounding settings

Setting	Study A	Study B
Fin angle	30°	65°
Fin length	42 units	58 units
Surroundings	Removed	Visible
Surrounding order	Original	Swapped

> Several surrounding settings differ. This comparison does not isolate the effect of one variable.

Compare the three matches and ranges as well as the medians. Two small studies describe your matches under these settings; they do not establish a general effect.

Study A · Lines & arrowheads

Fixed reference: 400 units.

Median match	Match range	Median difference
409 units	271–537 (266 units)	+9 units (+2.25%)

Three recorded matches

Trial	Starting value	Recorded match	Difference from reference
1	250	271	-129
2	550	409	+9
3	411	537	+137

Recorded settings

Setting	Recorded value
Fin angle	30°
Fin length	42 units
Surroundings	Removed
Surrounding order	Original

The median is the middle of your three matches; the range spans their lowest and highest values. These describe this small set of drawing matches, not a score. Try another study with different surroundings to compare your impressions.
